The Elizabeth Hallman Courage Scholarship Award

The Elizabeth Hallman Courage Scholarship Award is being established to honor the memory of Liz Hallman who passed away just prior to her senior year at Powers Catholic High School. This scholarship award is initially funded by the Liz Hallman Athletic Courage Award which was originally created through generous contributions of Liz's family, classmates, their parents, faculty and friends. This scholarship award will help support a student who is in financial need in their junior and/or senior years at Powers Catholic.

Liz suffered a season-ending knee injury playing basketball her junior year. She underwent knee surgery, and worked through a grueling rehabilitation program in order to join her soccer team by the end of the season.

The name of this scholarship includes "courage" for a reason. Liz displayed tremendous emotional courage in remaining a leader and captain of the basketball team although she could not physically participate. She also showed great physical courage in undergoing ACL reconstructive knee surgery in December and fighting through rehabilitation in order to return to playing soccer the following May. This sequence of events captures the essence of Liz's character and the depth of her courage.

Liz was not only an athlete, but a person who loved being a student at Powers Catholic High School. She had great classmates and friends, as well as a supportive coaches, staff and faculty at Powers. The sense of family at Powers helped nurture Liz from a shy freshman to an outstanding, vibrant young woman about to enter her senior year at Powers Catholic.

This scholarship award benefits a Powers student who exhibits Elizabeth's same courage, tenacity and love to help them financially through their junior and senior years. We believe that Liz would be thrilled to know that a student would be helped through the generosity of this award to obtain a Catholic education at Powers Catholic High School.
